

BLUE MOUNTAINS EDIBLE GARDEN TRAIL 2025

We sincerely acknowledge the traditional custodians of the Blue Mountains, the Darug and Gundungurra peoples, on whose land the Edible Garden Trail takes place. We pay our respects to their elders, past and present, thank them for their continuing care for Country, and acknowledge that sovereignty was never ceded.
Always was, always will be Aboriginal land.

MOUNT VICTORIA

1. 49-51 ST GEORGES PARADE - Wild Health Hub

This cool-climate edible garden doubles as a living classroom, showing how you can grow abundantly, eat seasonally, and boost your health, even if you rent. Raised beds overflow with seasonal produce, a native bush food garden adds unique flavours, and gourmet and medicinal mushrooms - including lion's mane and oyster - thrive in shady spots. A flock of feathered "assistants" keep the eggs coming and add plenty of personality to the garden. Candace will be hosting fermentation and food-as-medicine demonstrations at 11am, 1pm and 3pm, exploring how what you grow can be transformed into gut-loving, immune-supporting creations. You'll see how the journey from garden bed to kitchen bench — and sometimes into a bubbling jar - can turn fresh harvests into nourishing, living foods. There will also be fermented goodies, seasonal garden treats, and handmade natural care products available.

SUNDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

BLACKHEATH

2. 165 WENTWORTH STREET - Blackheath Community Kitchen Garden

Responding to the "cry of the earth and the cry of the poor", this community garden grows organic produce for those in need, partnering with Vinnies, Blackheath Area Neighbourhood Centre, and the Uniting Church. Composting system, vegetables, & fruit.

SATURDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

3. 60 THIRROUL AVENUE Blackheath Community Farm

A place to connect with community, share knowledge, stories, skills, and food in a beautiful outdoor setting providing opportunities to learn more about permaculture and bush regeneration.
SUNDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

4. 1 LEICHHARDT STREET - Blackheath Public School

A flourishing veggie garden fueled with school-made compost and chicken manure from a flock of chooks. To reduce food waste students use a variety of composting systems, worm farms, chickens and compost bins. These systems feed the veggies and fruit that are grown in 9 raised garden beds. Students harvest organic produce for the healthy school canteen so all students can enjoy freshly picked, organic produce. Students were instrumental in the design of the gardens, the set up and a dedicated Green Team manage the upkeep of the composting systems and work in the gardens.
SUNDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

5. 83 EVANS LOOKOUT ROAD - Robin

Three plastic tunnels dominate the back yard, growing in grow bags, a wide range of salad greens and herbs. Robin will demonstrate seed sowing, pricking out of seedlings, and creating soil mixtures for the bags. The front yard is settled on a formal rose garden style, with clematis running over a garden pergola. Four rain water tanks provide water security through the hot summers.
SATURDAY & SUNDAY 10am - 4pm

6. 15 STAVELEY PARADE - Helen

Large and diverse raised bed vegetable plot, fruit trees, berries, and herbs along with an old established garden full of cool climate specimens.
SATURDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

KATOOMBA

7. 51 MORT STREET - The Little Orchard

The Little Orchard is a delightful small-scale property that puts permaculture principles into practice in every corner. This productive garden is home to 35+ fruit trees of various kinds, a grove of hazelnuts and walnuts, and multiple vegetable beds. You'll also find a native garden that supports local biodiversity, a composting system, and a bathtub worm farm recycling organic waste into rich soil food. A highlight is the charming tiny house on wheels, which will be open for visitors to explore. The Little Orchard also features two friendly goats helping to manage weeds and contribute to the fertility cycle. Join an outdoor community sound healing session with Vanessa Fang, to connect with nature and nurture your well-being in a serene environment.

SUNDAY ONLY 10 am - 4 pm

8. 96 CAMP STREET - Jen Hall

This well-established permaculture garden is a vibrant teaching space, home to Permaculture Matters and the inner space. With its highly productive veggie patch, orchard, worm farm, ponds, and waterway, the garden demonstrates the power of living in harmony with nature. The property also features a large glasshouse, a wicking bed, solar passive and energy-efficient buildings, and ample rainwater storage. Native bushland adds to the biodiversity, creating a thriving ecosystem. Permaculture Matters offers a range of workshops and Permaculture Design Courses on site. Join our free info sessions at 11 am or 2 pm to learn how to live in alignment with nature and grow abundantly.

SATURDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

9. CNR. DOWLING & BOURNE STREETS -

Farm it Forward at Katoomba High School
Farm It Forward (FIF) is a charity matching residents and organisations who have unused land to people with skills and passion to grow local fresh food regeneratively. The grow tunnel at Katoomba High school is a hands-on space for action research which involves working with local First Nations people, youth peer support organisations, and our local high school to provide transformative learning programs for young people.

SATURDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

10. 18 MERRIWA STREET - Katoomba Public School

School kitchen garden that is a special place in the hearts of the children, families, and staff at Katoomba Public. The children love caring for the chickens and are super excited to harvest vegetables they have grown themselves.

SATURDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

11. ACACIA STREET - Blue Mountains Planetary Health Initiative

Waterwise Demonstration Gardens. See different ways of planting that can save you water including wicking beds, a worm farming compost seat, wildlife ponds, oja- making demonstrations, and what to plant in the Blue Mountains so the birds don't eat your garden!

@bluemountainsplanetaryhealth

SATURDAY ONLY 10am - 4pm

12. 10 FIFTH AVENUE - Silvana

Inspired by her parents' knowledge and experience of growing their own food all their lives, Silvana maintains various fruit and nut trees, and Mediterranean plants in conjunction with the Australian Bush. The garden supplies her Italian cooking classes with produce.

ENJOYING YOUR EDIBLE GARDEN TRAIL

SAFETY FIRST - Important Message for Visitors

The Edible Garden Trail team and the garden owners have taken all reasonable precautions to make the gardens safe for visitors. However, despite all efforts, there are possible inherent dangers in all gardens, including uneven paths, steps, walls, borders and other garden features that may present hazards, particularly as these are working gardens developed for produce not visitors.

We ask that when climbing, descending or crossing parts of the gardens, you act only within the limits of your fitness and take particular care to prevent tripping, slipping, falling, striking or colliding with objects in the trail gardens.

Please check our website ediblegardentrail.com or social media for updates to the Trail regarding weather conditions or garden closures due to unforeseen circumstances.

- Please ask about stroller access as some gardens are not stroller friendly.
- Children must be accompanied by, and under supervision of, an adult at all times.
- Dogs and other animals are not permitted in any garden.
- Garden visitors must stay on paths at all times and must not enter areas marked "out of bounds" or obviously private.
- Beware, some gardens have bees or other insects.
- Make sure to wear sensible and sturdy footwear.
- Don't forget sunscreen, a hat and water – or an umbrella and gumboots.
- Have a great weekend and don't forget to let us know how much you enjoy the Trail!
